

We know for certain that ND completely clears up dyslexia. Several years ago, our then 7 year old son was failing in 2nd grade. He was the sweetest little boy on the planet, but just couldn't do anything successfully when it came to academics. Upon his first evaluation with Cyndi Ringoen, she confirmed that yes, he was dyslexic as all the experts (teachers etc) had been telling us. Not only that, but he was ADD and ADHD as well with a host of other problems thrown in too. She then offered us such hope and said..... ."Don't worry, he's going to be easy to fix!" I sat across from her balling my head off. No one had ever given us hope before. No one.....

Well, it did take some time.....we kept plugging and patching and doing program to beat the band.....years came and went.....but it was our son, the very same 7 year old who is now 18 who stood on the podium just a few short months ago at his high school graduation proudly accepting his full-ride ROTC scholarship of $40,000.00 a year to the college of his choice. He also was awarded many other scholarships and awards (Kiwanis, Christian Athletic Scholarship) that evening that he proudly accepted as well.

J. not only has an organized brain now thanks to the ND approach, but he has a heart that lives for Jesus Christ and praises Him for all that he's been given. We couldn't be prouder of him if we tried. :) One of the neatest things is that when J. wrote his essay for college acceptance, he wrote about me, his mother doing ND with him and helping become the man that God intended him to be in the first place. I'd be happy to share this essay with anyone who would like to read it. It completely blessed my heart!

Keep doing program moms and dads. Keep plugging and patching. Don't give up!!! The very best is right around the corner for your child. It might not happen over night.....but it will happen. Each month you'll see little changes..... .some months you'll see many. And it might not look like our son's best, but it'll be God's very best for your child and you won't want to miss it.

Blessings,

J. B., proud ND mama for many years still happily doing program with bonus babies L.and L. after completing program with J. and J.
